

Friday 1st July
 L.O. To write an adventure story

Once there was the happiest (happy) and the best football player in the whole Ocean.

He was an Octopus and his name was Tim.

One day he was playing football with his friends, Joe and Steve. Tim was really good. "Wow! Tim you're really good," said Joe. "Yeah," said Steve.

Then they all went back home for tea. Their family was waiting for them in their deep, dark, cave under water.

Suddenly everyone got taken away by the big boss, the great white shark, and his servant, a swordfish. Luckily Tim wasn't gone. But he had to save his friends, so he went to save his friends.

appeared

As he was walking swimming along, a massive diver appeared and captured him. Luckily a puffer fish appeared and poisoned the diver.

Suddenly there was loads of burning hot bubbles everywhere.

Then he had an idea he would swim through and it worked.

Then he found his friends looked up. So he unlocked them with the Keys. Ridd the big boss and his servant. killed

And they had a big party.

Great effort Oscar.

N.S. Check full stops as there are a few still missing.