

the water became very fast! I clambered back into my boat and sailed to the next ^{old} town.

Soon, I came to a town called Abingdon. I had heard that this was the oldest town in England. I passed a church and went under a bridge. I saw lots of barges and other boats. I started to get hungry so ~~to~~ I ^{ate} some sandwiches. Then, I passed a park. I saw some children playing. I waved to them and they waved back. After that, my boat came to a lock. The doors opened and my boat went through. But then... The boat went into a weir! ~~my~~ My boat tipped over, again and again and I fell out. When I got out of the weir, I saw my boat on the shore. So, I got back in and sailed away to the next town.

As Eventually, I came to Windsor. There was a huge palace in the distance. I had heard that the palace belonged to the Queen. Some swans ~~suddenly~~ surrounded me and started eating my honey! These swans were probably the ones that belonged to the Queen. So I decided to just ignore them and carry on on my journey to the sea.

Not long after that, I came to London. As I approached the city centre, I began to see lots of skyscrapers and landmarks. Big Ben, St Paul's cathedral, The London eye all rushed past me. Then, something amazing happened. A very large boat came along the river and lower Bridge